

SIDETRACK 'DOWN UNDER THE THUMB'

DEvised & DIRECTED BY DON MAMOUNEY

Down Under

The Thumb is a theatrical event where the performers are Australia's ethnic and migrant population playing out the conflicts and battles which they face as part of their everyday life.

Down Under The Thumb examines the conflict inside the family that results when parents grew up outside Australia. It looks at the interaction between parents, children, the school and the workforce. How does this affect the young... the group most at risk while Australia struggles with its multiculturalism?

Down Under The Thumb is based on the actual experiences of students, teachers and parents. Young people have pressures on them... what their parents want, their school demands, what they and their friends like to do. How are these reconciled?
